In this issue an attempt has been made to bring the M.L.A. membership up to date on some of the important news of the 1956-57 year through the medium of reports, summaries and excerpts from reports as presented at the Annual Meeting on April 26 and 27. The list of standing committees looks to the future.

A change in numbering Maryland Libraries occurs with the Fall 1957 issue under the new Editorial Committee. Because the Committee is not appointed until after the Annual Meeting in the Spring and cannot successfully prepare copy for some time, issue number 1 has been changed from Spring to Fall. In order that the membership receive four issues for the 1956-57 year, however, this special supplementary number has been published.

Association of School Librarians Luncheon

An event of interest to many Maryland principals, supervisors, and teachers is the luncheon planned by the Association of School Librarians of Maryland for Friday, October 11. Believing that the school library program can succeed only to the extent that it serves the needs of the entire school, this group has arranged a program intended to attract administrators and classroom teachers as well as librarians.

Guest speaker for this occasion is Dr. John J. DeBoer, Professor of Education at the University of Illinois, whose topic, "Teacher-Librarian Cooperation for Better Reading," concerns one of the important issues of present-day education—the improvement of reading. Dr. DeBoer is widely known as a teacher, writer, editor, and lecturer in the field of education. His books include Design For Elementary Education; Creative Reading, and Reading For Living. He is editor of The Elementary English Review (the official organ of the National Council of Teachers of English) and is past assistant editor of The English Journal. He is a frequent contributor to professional periodicals and holds or has held many important offices in professional groups.

Librarians are issuing special invitations to principals and other friends outside their group to hear this outstanding speaker. Make your plans now to attend.

Miss Amy Winslow

Honorary Member

At the luncheon meeting of the Maryland Library Association on Friday, April 26 it was announced that Miss Amy Winslow, retiring Director of the Enoch Pratt Free Library, had been chosen an honorary member of the Association. Miss Helen M. Clark, Director of the Maryland Division of Library Extension, read the citation.

CITATION

"It is a high privilege to announce that the Executive Board of the Maryland Library Association has elected Miss Amy Winslow, Past President, as an honorary member. Although Miss Winslow will be retiring this summer as the Director of the Enoch Pratt Free Library, this membership assures us that her fine qualities of leadership will continue to influence this Association. We look forward with her to an honorary membership of equal length to her active membership, with much profit to her fellow members and to Maryland library service.

"Miss Winslow first came to Pratt when the new building opened in 1932. She was head of the Industry and Science Department until 1939. In 1946 she returned as assistant director and became its first woman director in October, 1951. Her contributions have been many and have always led to better library service for the people of Baltimore together with better working conditions for the staff. If air conditioning in the Central Library had been her only accomplishment, the citizens and staff would owe her continuous thanks, but she has opened four new branches, reopened others after extensive remodeling and planned that all branch libraries will be modernized and air conditioned. Her standards have always been the highest: in personnel, in book selection and in library programming which helps Baltimoreans to 'expand their mental horizons,' to quote her from an interview in the Sunday Sun of April 7, 1957.

"Other communities which have profited because of Miss Winslow's talents in librarianship are Pittsburgh, Indianapolis, Cleveland, Cuyahoga County, Iowa State College, and the State of Maryland for her contributions through the Library Development Committee and this Association. In the American Library Association, she has been a recognized leader, particularly in the adult education functions of public libraries. She was co-author with Dr. Carleton B. Joeckel of A National Plan For Public Library Service, 1948, and a member of the Coordinating Committee on Revision of Public Library Standards which produced Public Library Service, 1956. She is truly one of the rare people who has been an elder statesman from her youngest days.

"Miss Winslow has one other distinction which can never be taken from her. In 1929 she received the first Master of Arts degree ever granted by the University of Chicago Graduate Library School. The alumni sometimes lovingly call her their 'oldest living graduate.' Now she is valiantly working as chairman of the M.L.A. Library School Committee for the establishment of a graduate library school at the University of Maryland where we hope some future Marylander will attain the goal of the 'oldest living graduate' of the University of Maryland School of Library Science.

"We salute you, Amy Winslow, and welcome you as an active-honorary member of M.L.A. for life. You are our esteemed colleague, intelligent counselor, and a charming lady whom we are honored to call FRIEND."

A Library School In 1959?

REPORT OF THE LIBRARY SCHOOL COMMITTEE
1956-1957

At the Annual Meeting of the Maryland Library Association held on April 27, 1956, the report of the Committee on the Establishment of a Library School in Maryland was presented and accepted. The committee recommended the establishment of a school at the University of Maryland and reported a conference with the President of the University at which he expressed interest but indicated need for further study by a faculty committee in consultation with librarians in the state.

Pursuant to this conference Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, President of the University, referred the matter to the University Committee on Programs, Curricula and Courses, Dr. Peter P. Lejins, Chairman. Mr. George Moreland, then President of the Maryland Library Association, appointed a committee of the Maryland Library Association made up of five librarians from the state and two from the District of Columbia, three Trustees from Maryland and one representative from the State Department of Education, to work with the faculty committee.

Dr. Lejins at once appointed a subcommittee to work on the library school project, naming Howard Rovelstad as one of the members. Mr. Rovelstad, being a member of the Maryland Library Association committee, thus served in a liaison capacity and has enabled the two committees to work very closely together.

Until recently the need has been chiefly for assembling of data which would be of help to the University subcommittee. This has been done chiefly by Mr. Rovelstad and the chairman of your committee. Although other members of your committee were kept fully informed there was no occasion or need for a meeting of the full committee for several months. Dr. Lejins invited Mae Graham, Lucile Morsch (representing the Library of Congress and the District) and Amy Winslow to act as resource people to his subcommittee.

Several meetings have been held with Dr. Lejins and members of his subcommittee. At his request a very tentative curriculum was formulated by a subcommittee of your committee, made up of its librarian members with the addition of Leona Huber.

But of this complicated-sounding but really very simple procedure came finally a draft of a formal proposal for a School of Library Science.

A full meeting of your committee was called on March 21 to consider this proposal in conference with Dr. Lejins and Dr. Haut of the Graduate Council of the University. Unfortunately only four members of the M.L.A. committee of eleven were able to be present but with the addition of Miss Huber five librarians took part. The meeting was highly successful in clarifying issues and further understanding. With a few changes the proposal was approved and was submitted to Dr. Lejins as the recommendation of the Maryland Library Association.

On March 28, Dr. Harold Lancour, Chairman of the American Library Association Committee on Accreditation, spent the day at College Park as Maryland Library Association representative and expert consultant, meeting in highly fruitful conferences with the Lejins' subcommittee. Miss Graham and Miss Winslow, who were also called in as consultants, felt that the Maryland Library Association could have made no better investment in this project than to bring Dr. Lancour to College Park. Dr. Lejins, in a letter expressing his thanks to the Maryland Library Association for bringing him to the University stated: "It is the unanimous opinion of the members of the subcommittee, who had the opportunity of talking with Dr. Lancour that the information obtained was extremely helpful. It will be of the utmost importance in enabling us to reach a decision with regard to the proposed school."

The matter now rests with University authorities. Several procedural steps are necessary and it is hoped that these may be completed with full approval of the administration in time for the first year's budget to be submitted to the 1958 State Legislature.

If plans as developed to date are approved, the school will operate under the Graduate School, offering the degree of Master of Science in Library Science. Minors will be offered in the College of Arts and Science and the College of Education. It is hoped that a dean of the school can be appointed a full year in advance of opening of the school. If this perhaps optimistic schedule is followed, we could have a library school in Maryland by the fall of 1959.

Respectfully submitted,

Amy Winslow, Chairman

Recruiting Materials Available From Committee

Through the M.L.A. Recruitment Committee (Janet Stevens, Chairman) copies of "Action Manual for Library Recruiters," sponsored by the A.L.A. Joint Committee on Library Work as a Career, were distributed to college librarians in Maryland with a letter urging good use of the contents thereof. This manual, the Committee feels, "should prove of real value in efforts to attract young people to enter library work."

Other recruiting materials gathered in quantity to help local librarians were "You Should Be a Librarian," originally published by the New York Life Insurance Company in popular magazines and later issued in pamphlet form, two A.L.A. folders, "Paging Your Future" and "Wanted, You the Children's Librarian," the Special Libraries Association booklet, "Putting Your Knowledge to Work," and several kinds of posters suitable for exhibit.

The Committee "is interested in and asking for information on any recruiting plans, programs, or contacts that have been made this past year, and is more than willing to send materials and assist in any way in the planning of future recruiting efforts."

In its letters to college librarians encouraging use of the Action Manual, the Committee also publicized the existence of the Scholarship Loan Fund and urged that interested students be referred to the Scholarship Loan Fund Committee.

Scholarship Loan Fund Regulations Set

In accord with the report of the Special Committee on Scholarships made at the Spring Meeting of 1956, a Scholarship Loan Fund Committee was appointed with H. David Turner, University of Maryland Library, as chairman. The Committee met at the University on December 5, 1956 and at the Enoch Pratt Free Library on January 17, February 14 and April 4. The following rules governing the loans were approved by the Committee and the Executive Board of the Maryland Library Association:

1. Application for a loan shall be made to the chairman of the Scholarship Loan Fund Committee, and if approved by a majority of this Committee, it shall be submitted to the Executive Board of the Maryland Library Association for final approval.

2. Applicant must have been a resident of the State of Maryland for at least one year before making application.

3. Applicant must have been accepted by an accredited library school before loan can be made.

4. The loan to any applicant shall not exceed $500.00.

5. The applicant shall give a promissory note for the amount borrowed.

6. Recipients shall begin repaying the loan as soon as employment is secured. A definite plan of payment should be worked out with the chairman of the Scholarship Loan Fund Committee and approved by the Executive Board of the Maryland Library Association.

7. The loan shall become due and payable within six months should the holder leave the profession.

With the authorization of the Executive Board, application, interviewer's report and reference forms were prepared and printed. Help in the preparation of the forms was received from the Delaware, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, and Rhode Island Library Associations.

At the Spring 1957 meeting the Committee presented the following recommendations to the membership:

1. That the Maryland Library Association raise at least $250.00 each year either from dues or from a special drive to add to the Scholarship Fund.

2. That a policy manual, if deemed necessary, be referred to the new Scholarship Committee for study. (The present Committee felt that the general policies governing the loans as set forth on the application blank were sufficient to meet the present needs of the Association.)

3. That the proposal of the Executive Board to the Committee that it study the question of formulating a policy of granting outright awards to members of the Association for attendance at various workshops, etc., be shelved. (The Committee felt that this was a responsibility of the library in which the member was employed and that the Association should use its resources for scholarships.) This recommendation was DEFEATED.

4. That for continuity and smoothness of operation at least one member of the outgoing Committee should be included in the membership of the new Committee.

5. That after a trial period of at least two years the question of providing outright grants to students rather than loans should be studied and the present policy changed in accordance with the wishes of the Association.

This recommendation was AMENDED to read:

5. That after a trial period of at least two years the question of providing outright grants to students as well as loans should be studied and the present policy changed in accordance with the wishes of the Association.

The remaining recommendations were approved.

Trustees Citation

Groundwork for a Trustees Citation was laid by the Awards and Citation Committee (Esther King, Chairman) by preparing this list of suggestions to be turned over to the succeeding committee:

1. Trustee citations should be limited to trustees in actual service during at least part of the calendar year preceding the annual meeting of the Maryland Library Association.
2. Equal consideration should be given to the service records of trustees of both small and large libraries.
3. The candidate's contributions to the development, support and appreciation of the local library, as well as his state and national library activities should be of interest to the Committee.
4. Recommendations should be accompanied by a full record of the candidate's achievements and might be submitted by any local library board or organized Friends of the Library group.
5. Nominations should be mailed to the Awards and Citation Committee who months before the annual meeting of the Association.
6. It should be the duty of the Committee to review the recommendations received and submit the name of any nominee selected for a citation to the Executive Board of the Association for approval one month before the annual meeting.
7. The presentations of the citations should be made at the annual meeting of the Association.

Miscellaneous Items

THE MEMBERSHIP

Membership in the Maryland Library Association increased from 512 in 1955 to 536 in 1956, according to the report of the treasurer, Edward H. Fenner. Paid-up membership in all categories for the first three months in 1957 numbered 373.

MARYLAND LIBRARY LEGISLATION

The matter of library legislation was fully covered in a preceding issue of Maryland Libraries. Since then the State Legislative Council has held a preliminary hearing on the two bills submitted to it. A further hearing is anticipated.

CONSTITUTIONAL AFFAIRS

The Constitution and By-Laws Committee (Richard D. Minnich, Chairman) proposed at the Annual Meeting that the Scholarship Loan Fund Committee be made a permanent standing committee of the Association. Because of lack of time no action was taken on this recommendation which was referred to the succeeding committee.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY NEW CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS COMMITTEE

The Constitution and By-Laws Committee has been charged by the Executive Board to study, revise and generally overhaul the present MLA Constitution and By-Laws with the view of clarifying and updating it. All members are urgently requested to send in any suggestions or comments they might have to the Committee by October 15, 1957.

Send your suggestions to: Edward H. Fenner, Chairman, Constitution and By-Laws Committee, Enoch Pratt Free Library, Baltimore 1, Md.

How M.L.A. Backed The Library Services Act

With Congressional action imminent on the 1958 appropriation under the Library Services Act the M.L.A. Federal Relations Committee under Helen M. Clark met in February 1957 to compose a letter to each of the Maryland senators and representatives. The letter, reports the Committee, called attention to limits which would be imposed on the Maryland State Plan for Public Libraries under P.L. 597 (the Library Services Act) by an appropriation smaller than the $7,500,000 authorized by the law and asked that the House Appropriations Committee be urged to recommend the full $7,500,000 for implementation of the Act. Senators and representatives were also urged to vote favorably for the full amount when the Appropriations Bill should come up for vote. The replies, the Committee reports, were favorable.

Each public library, twenty-five organizations in the state and numerous individuals were also alerted to get in touch with their Congressmen.

An appropriation of only $3,000,000 had been recommended in the executive budget. After a House sub-committee had increased the proposed appropriation to $5,000,000 and when the time for a vote in the House came near, the M.L.A. Committee acted to encourage key people and organizations to send wires, telephone or write to representatives. The $5,000,000 appropriation was passed in the House on March 29 and received headlines on the front page of the Baltimore Sun the next day. It was, the Committee notes, the only item recommended for a raise and the only case in which a motion to reduce was defeated.

Again in the Senate when testimony of the Secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the Commissioner of the Office of Education threatened the $5,000,000 voted by the House, the Federal Relations Committee alerted libraries and interested organizations to back the House figure. This was the situation at the time of the Annual Meeting.

Since then on June 12 the Senate upheld the House appropriation and on June 29 the President signed the bill incorporating the $5,000,000 appropriation for the Library Demonstration Program for 1958.

Exhibits At The Annual Meeting

Exhibits at the Annual Meeting on April 26-27 produced a total income of $555, according to the report of Christian W. Gross, Exhibit Chairman. With the cost of the exhibit area $225, the net profit amounted to $330.

These were the exhibitors who thus cooperated with the Association:
